CONSIDER HIM THAT ENDURED.

A Most Pleasant Soul-Feast for the Telegram's Sunday Readers.

Correspondence Telegram.

"For consider Him that endured such contradiction of sinners against Himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds." Hebrew 12:3.

Recently, from the first and second verses of this chapter I have written and preached to you on the necessity of Christians, if they would preserve character, running the race that is set before them, "looking unto Jesus." And at whatever cost, it is important that you maintain your character. The race is not easily run; neither is the crown of life to be won, without sacrifice, contradiction and endurance. The fact is, the whole of our chapter is an exhortation to perfection in life to the extent that the grace of God, which is the help of God, can make it. And the power of this grace is certainly without limits. Weariness and faintness of mind, in many, who, for a season, ran well, is a result of not being able to endure. Going up the hills at San Juan in the face of bullets or crossing the Alps against storms of wind and falling ice requires no more bravery than to meet with resignation and equanimity the ills of life. Death rather than failure should be the motto of the Christian soldier Henry Drummond tells of a famous sculptor in Paris who executed a great work. It stands today in the Gallerie des Beaux Arts. He was a great genius, and this was his last work; but like many a great genius he was very poor, and lived in a small garret. This garret was his studio, workshop, and bedroom. He had this statue almost finished in clay, when one night a frost fell suddenly over Paris The sculptor lay on his bed, with the statue before him in the centre of the fireless room. As the chill air came down upon him, he saw that if the cold got more intense the water in the interstices of the clay would freeze, and so the old man rose and heaped the bed-clothes reverently upon the statue. In the morning when his friends came in they found the old sculptor dead; but the image was saved! So in the midst of the contradictions with which we meet daily, if we consider Him, look always to Him He will be the Sculptor changing this bodily clay into His own image. Preserve that above all things. And if it calls for a devotion on your parts as constant as that given by the old sculptor to his statues, count it not a high price to pay; in order that you may be in the eyes of your fellow what you profess to be. They tell us that the work of creation is still going on; that geology is yet laboring on the earth not finished; and it is also the truth that the Spirit of God still works on the depraved hearts of man; and where this spirit is not resisted, He can take even an ordinary man and make him in the image of God—just as Christ was in His image. And it is possible for men to be like Him. But to gain this likeness requires the same devotion that He gave. Are you giving it? I am afraid not. Please, then, repent and follow Him, "Who for the joy that that was set before Him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God"

CHRISTIANS MUST RESIST.

"Ye have not yet resisted unto blood striving against sin." If men were a habitually resisting sin as in yielding to it all the power of satan would be powerless We have an object lesson of resistance to outside and heavy pressure on the part of the Philippines. They have excited the admiration of the world They die rather than surrender. So will the true Christian before yield ing to a sin that would spot or stain his name. I want my last work in life to be a never yielding to sin; the result of unflinching consecration to the Gospel which I try to preach. It is not to be supposed that any of my readers will ever be called to make such resistance as would entail the shedding of blood. But every day you are met by man's enemy—sin—and without resistance this enemy gets the best of you. Men often are moved in mind to accept Christ and follow Him, but the body remains under the influence of evil and soon the mind wearies, becomes faint, and the good influences pass away. I heard the Rev. C. W. Byrd preach a very able sermon at Central church, Asheville, a few weeks ago. The Spirit of the Lord was upon him as he proclaimed earnestly the acceptable year of the Lord and liberty to the captive in sin. He spoke of sin as a great fundamental fact of the universe and not in the sense of a particular act. He called attention to Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit reproving the world for sin; and in conclusion holding up Christ as the ideal of life and righteousness, he asked if any present would accept Him as the Savior of man and follow Him. One prominent citizen of the city fell under the influence of the spirit to the extent that he publicly accepted Christ, quietly, but no less, I am sure, with the determination to follow the Master. Other men in that congregation were under the same spell. They admired the act of the one man but were not able to resist that evil spirit, which whispered, "Not today; wait for a more convenient season;" therefore, they may never accept. Men who would be Christians must resist; so also men, who become Christians, will find that eternal vigilance is the price of preserving Christian character. One to whom I read the foregoing remarks, says I make the rule of Christian conduct too rigid. I don't make it at all—only declare it as appears in the Book. If there is a departure from the faith once delivered to the saints, so much the worse for Christianity; and so much more important that all of its professors know what the law is, in order that they may become one of the chosen few. "Many are called, but few are chosen" There is reason for this law. No law is good without it. Christ has done much for us. If we are not willing to be bound on His altar then we do not deserve the blessings always falling on those who are Christians. The characters in "What would Jesus do?" Sheldon's book, in a sense, resisted unto blood It is a very interesting book, but very novel and I am afraid does not tell the truth; or rather, that the events recorded do not occur. He tells us what Jesus would do; my scripture tells us what He did How many men and women in the church today can stand and sing, and at the same time, tell the truth the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, the following lines?

"Jesus, I my cross have taken,
All to leave and follow thee;
Naked, poor, despised, forsaken,
Thou from hence my all shalt be;
Perish, every fond ambition,
All I have sought, or hoped, or known;
Yet how rich is my condition!
God and heaven are still my own."

Are you enduring? Are you resisting? Are you saved? Don't talk about being saved "at last." What did Jesus come for? To bring a present salvation. J. C. Troy.

THE BANK OF GUILFORD

Order Granted Allowing Payment of 40 Per Cent to Depositors.

THE BENBOW PROPERTY BOUGHT

By a Stock Company, Represented By Jordan & McDonald. Purchase Price, $35,000.

J. S. Cox, receiver of the Bank of Guilford, this morning made his report through his attorney Judge John G. Bynum to Judge Brown. The report showed the receipts and disbursements since the alst report was made and also that the bank now has about $31,000 on hand. The receiver asked the court to grant an order allowing him to pay depositors 50 per cent of their claims after the accounts had been adjusted and approved by the court.

Attorneys R. R. King and Thomas Settle, representing the shareholders, objected to this on certain conditions but the court granted an order allowing the receiver to pay depositors 40 per cent., Judge Brown thinking this safer. Mr. Cox expects to begin paying the 40 per cent in about 40 days.

S. H. Boyd, auditor of accounts, also filed his report, but not being of special importance in the transactions, it was not read. It occupies several type written pages.

It is now believed that the affairs of the bank will be settled without carrying the matter into the courts. The books are yet in a bad condition, but Receiver Cox expresses a hope that the depositors will be paid 100 per cent.

BENBOW PROPERTY BOUGHT.

The Benbow hotel property has passed into the hands of a stock company, represented by Jordan & McDonald, real estate agents, the deal having been closed last night. The price paid Capt. Fisher was in the neighborhood of $35,000.

When seen by a reporter this morning Mr. Jordan said that he had nothing whatever to say, as to the plans of the purchasers. He merely stated that the deal was closed. It is the general belief, however, that the new owners will rebuild the hotel, with many improvements, and that at a very early day. It is to be hoped that this is their plan, and that they will materialize.

SOUTHERN TO INCREASE WAGES.

All the Employes of the System to Have their Old Wages Restored

The Southern Railway, during the dull season of 1896, made a cut of ten per cent in the wages of employes. Some months ago the wages of the "shop men" were restored, while the engineers also secured some slight increase of pay. It is learned that the company has decided to restore the original 10 per cent all round, and that an announcement to that effect will be made about September 10th.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Stray Pistol Bullet Almost Hits a South Greensboro Lady.

A stray bullet came near ending the life of Mrs Whittington, who lives at the Julian place, on Asheboro street, at a late hour last night. Mrs. Whittington was asleep when a bullet crashed through the window blind, struck the side of the bed, glanced its full length and lodged in the wall, a few inches from her head. She awoke her son, Robert Whittington, who armed himself with a pistol and walked around the house. On Asheboro street he accosted a negro, barefooted and bareheaded, who was carrying a pistol in his hand.

Mr. Whittington demanded the pistol, which the negro willingly gave up. It was empty, which he accounted for by saying that he had been shooting at a mad dog.

Mr. Whittington returned the pistol and the negro walked on, but the police will probably make a case against him.

Careless shooting is becoming appallingly frequent in South Greensboro and the citizens are becoming somewhat aroused. Only a few nights ago a windowglass was broken at a residence by the discharge of a shot gun in the hands of an unknown party.

A COMPICATED AFFAIR.

People of Fentress Township Don't Like School Location.

The people of Fentress township, this county, have raised a controversy over the location of the public school house in their district Several townships were recently redistricted, and the lines being moved the school house in one district was left, it seems, in one corner. The educational committee decided to let it remain so and thought the matter ended. But some of the citizens to whom the school house is not so easily accessible had strenuous objections to the location and started a controversy which has waxed exceedingly warm. As a grand climax the county board of education was appealed to and this body met here today to settle the matter, but it was not so easy for them. Complications—scores of them—seem to have arisen in the meeting. It is not known what the decision of the meeting will be.

THE WAYNESVILLE TROUBLE.

Capt. Stringfield's Official Report—Mob Kept Away from Soldiers.

Col. J. C. L. Harris, the acting Adjutant General, yesterday received an official report from Captain Thomas Stringfield of company H, First North Carolina Regiment, who was ordered out with his company to assist the sheriff of Haywood county in protecting a prisoner, Bert Smith by name, who was confined in the Waynesville jail on a charge of rape.

Capt. Stringfield's report would seem to justify the ordering out of the troops. The official report from the officer is given herewith;

"I have the honor to make the following report as to duties performed, per instruction by telegram Aug 25, 1899. Your telegram was received at 3 p, m. the 25th, and at 4 p. m., just one hour after the receipt of telegram, I reported to the sheriff of Haywood county. He ordered me to place a guard around the jail, which I did. We had a double guard line around the prison all night. We also had out pickets on the roads leading to town so as not to be surprised. We performed regular guard duty until evening, when we were relieved by the sheriff. The mob was reported to be on the way only two miles out of town, but hearing the prison was heavily guarded they never came near us. I had 39 men on duty most of the time. All kinds of rumors were around, and excitement was high for sometime, but no attempt was made to take the prisoner. My men were held under arms from Friday, August 25th, to Sunday, August 27th. Everything has become quiet and I don't think there will be any further attempt at lynching."—Morning Post.

At the earnest solicitation of friends I have decided to open a private kindergarten on September 18. Having been in the work for the past six years I assure the public of the most thorough and up to date kindergarten methods.

Court Adjourns.

Judge Brown opened court at 9:30 this morning and the morning was occupied in hearing motions. Court practically adjourned at noon, though his honor announced that he would hear a few motions after 4 o'clock this afternoon.

They will leave for their home in Washington, N. C., tonight. Judge Brown has won the respect and regard of every lawyer of the Guilford bar and everyone will be glad when his turn comes again.

THE OYSTER SEASON OPENS

But Few of the Bivalves on the Market Yet.

THE THOMAS JEFFERSON ESTATE

At Monticello, Va.—Its Present Owner—Secretary Porter Returns—Other News.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, Sept. 2nd—Senator Charles A. Culbertson, of Texas, son of the distinguished statesman, Hon David D. Culberson, is in Washington for a few days stopping at the Ebbitt House. The senator-elect will at the beginning of the session next December succeed in the United States senate Hon. Roger Q. Mills, who on the fourth day of last March retired to private life after a service in the national arena which has made his name famous.

Hon. Charles A. Culberson, although comparatively a young man, being somewhere between forty-five and fifty, perhaps, has won his way to the front through his own efforts, being a man of fine intellectual attainments, unswerving integrity and pleasant personal attainments. He has held the highest office the state could confer upon him, having twice held the office of chief executive of Texas. He comes to the United States senate fresh from the executive chair, and without opposition, so he is in a position to secure much good in the way of legislation for his state, knowing, perhaps, better than almost any other man in the state what is needed by the commonwealth. It is probable that there is not another public man who has held so many political honors from the people he represents as Charles A. Culbertson.

Mr. Culbertson is a strong democrat. He is a firm believer in the free coinage of silver, and is an ardent supporter of Col. William J. Bryan for the presidency. Although Mr Culberson has had no previous legislative experience, judging from his distinguished father, who for twenty consecutive years took first rank in the lower house of the national legislature, he will doutless take high rank in the senate.

The first of September marked the opening of the oyster and game season in Washington. During the months from the first of May to the last day of August, the sale of game of certain kinds is prohibited by law, and what oysters are sold are deep sea oysters. Dealers say that the prospects for the season this year are very good. As yet very few oyster vessels have arrived, and it will be several days before they will begin to come in large numbers.

Mr. Jefferson M. Levy, congressman elect from New York state, was in the city the other day on business connected with the departments. Mr. Levy is well known throughout the south, being the owner of the estate of Thomas Jefferson at Monticello, Va. Soon after the election he announced himself as a candidate for the speakership nomination and as a candidate for the minority leadership, to succeed Congressman Bailey, of Texas. It is understood, however, that Mr Levy has not been of late pushing his canvass very actively, having given up all hope of securing the nomination from the democratic caucus.

Mr. Levy is a very pleasant gentleman, and the Jefferson estate at Monticello has often been the scene of gatherings of noted public men. It is his custom during the session of congress to frequently give dinners and gatherings at his Virginia estate. This will be Mr. Levy's first experience as a member of the national legislature. He is said, however, to be a good lawyer, and to be familiar with New York city politics, which is the chief recommendation for a member from the metropolis. It is said that he is a representative of a syndicate which proposes to purchase the property of Mr. Astor, who recently transferred his allegience from the United States to England. It is estimated that the value of the property is about one hundred and twenty-five million dollars.

Secretary J Addison Porter has returned to Washington, and resumed his official duties at the white house. Mr. Porter has been absent for several months, having only recently returned from a visit to Europe. His health, which several months ago was very poor, it is said, has greatly improved. There have been rumors to the effect that Mr. Porter would soon resign as private secretary to the president, and be offered a foreign mission, but this is not believed by his close friends. Mr. Porter has ambitions, but they lie in another direction, He would like to be governor of Connecticut, and perhaps eventually United States senator, and it is said that he will again try for the gubernatorial nomination at the proper

A GRAND, COLOSSAL AND IMPOSING SPECTACLE.

Solomon, His Temple and the Queen of Sheba.

To the skeptic or the agnostic as well as to the devout believer in the sacred scriptures, the era of the great King Solomon's reign is and can be naught else but the most impressive, the most interesting and the grandest in all history. There are no parallels in all the records of the past; nothing approximating in grandeur, in wisdom and sublimity, in any chronicle of modern ages. It was then a felicitous conception of the mangement of John Robinson's Great World's Exposition to reproduce the scenes, personages, incidents and events in the reign of Solomon, the grand old patriarch, sage and king. That they have done this thoroughly, accepted and successfully, the public and the press unanimously attest. The great biblical spectacle, in its powerful sceneographic effects, in its accurate and realistic personations, and the sumptuous lavishness attending its representations, is pronounced with universal accord to be not only a triumph of art, but a revelation of the history of the past that has never had a precident. Our citizens will have the opportunity of seeing this grand spectacle in connection with the manifold other wonders of the John Robinson show, on September 13, 1899.

THE "LAUGHING EVANGELIST."

Correspondent Irvin Avery's newspaper report, several days since, regarding the peculiar and extraordinary style of preaching Evangelist Hodgin indulges in in his revival at the Quaker church, in this city, has been extensively copied among the state papers. We publish the item mentioned herewith:

"One night recently he said he became sanctified in Ohio and in a vision was informed that all the Quakers in North Carolina were going to hell. His purpose is to check this movement. 'You old Quakers sitting around here like a knot on a log!' he exclaimed, 'Why, I expect a lot of you will go to the devil.' Then he laughed the holy laugh. Yesterday, he said, I was reading the Bible, and he got to thinking about how sanctified he was, and he just laughed and laughed. In the course of his exhortation a woman came forward and professed religion, and the preacher was overcome with mirth. He jumped high in the air, and one could have heard him laugh three blocks away."

Apropos, the Charlotte News observes that "there are few things more original and startling than the sensational preacher. Whether in New York, Atlanta or Guilford county, he is the same. But it is something unusual to find one of this variety among the sober and sedate Quakers."

Evangelist Hodgin's mission to North Carolina, as a consequence of his lurid vision, it would seem to us, should be attended with the greatest solemnity; that deep agony of soul, tearful supplication and pious fasting and prayer would be eminently more appropriate to its fulfillment than so much pulpit hilarity.

It has been definitely decided that Jim Jeffries and Tom Sharkey before the Coney Island Athletic Club on October 23, for a purse of $30,000, shall have a chance to punch the stuffing out of each other. One month hence, it has also been definitely decided, our whilom friend Jim Corbett, who was once upon a time just gentleman enough to get licked very severely, shall be allowed an opportunity to lock horns with the victor of the championship scrap. So in pugilistic circles there is something to talk about and bet on as the weather grows cooler and pleasanter.

The end of the Rennes trial is expected on next Thursday. May the Angel of Justice haunt the consciences of the judges in whose hands rests the fate of the already forever crushed Dreyfus!

Hon. R. B. Glenn, North Carolina's peerless champion of democracy, has been invited by Senator Blackburn to make speeches in Kentucky for the democratic nominees. He will probably accept the invitation. We commend him to those "Blue Grass" voters who are inclined to the perverse. If they are not wholly past redemption, he'll convert them.

The "hero of Manila bay" is a plain man. There's not any sentimentality or false pride about him. The published reports some time since that he had in advance declined the home his admiring friends were preparing to present him with, all had their birth in the brain of some anxious, scoop-hungry reporter. The admiral is going to take the home, which no doubt will be a sumptuous one, as the funds have now reached the handsome proportions of $21,000 in the hands of the treasurer, with about $18,000 additional held by committees who haven't yet made their reports.

There will be services tomorrow. 11 a. m., 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. "Holiness to the Lord" through the baptism with the Holy Ghost and fire is the theme of the meetings. The great object of the church is the salvation of souls and the glory of God which will be accomplished when the Holy Spirit gets full possession of the church. The spirit and the flesh are mortal enemies. Self must die if we would let the spirit control our lives.

Hamilton Clarke, of Chauncy, Ga., says he suffered with itching piles twenty years before trying DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, two boxes of which completely cured him. Beware of worthless and dangerous counterfeits. Howard Gardner.

No, Maude, dear, it would hardly be fair to call the man who supplies a saloon with bread a barroom loafer.

Mr. A. Saunders, writing from Cocoanut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Hoax—"I notice that you didn't accept one of Harduppe's cigars." Joax—"No, I know the ropes."

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. C. E. Holton will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is every where admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel camplaint and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and seliable.

"Higher woman" is always very much in evidence when there's a mouse in the room.

All weak places in your system effectually closed against disease by DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cleanse the bowels, promptly cure chronic constipation, regulate the liver, and fill you with new life and vigor. Small, pleasant, sure; never gripe. Howard Gardner.

Lady of the house—"How is it that all the men who come around for cold victuals nowadays are big, able-bodied fellows?" Ragson Tatters—" 'Cause, lady, its on'y big, husky chaps wot kin stand dat kind of feedin'."

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver is inactive you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good alterative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at C. E. Holton's drug store. 50 cents per bottle.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve
Cures Piles, Scalds, Burns

It is not only beautiful women who hang over the mirror in the morning. Anxious women who are watching the wasting of their beauty, stand before the mirror and note the increasing lines etched by pain about the mouth and eyes. Thousands of such women, wrecked in body, and in disposition, haggard, nervous, irritable, cross, have by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription been entirely cured, and watched with delight the progress of the cure, marked by brightening eyes, reddening cheeks, and rounding form.

Woman's general health depends largely upon the local health of the organs distinctively feminine. Irregular periods in maidenhood, followed after marriage by debilitating drains, and the common consequences of motherhood, inflammation, ulceration, and displaced organs, ruin the general health. These conditions are entirely removed by "Favorite Prescription," the body blossoms in a new beauty, and the mind is entirely freed from gloom and despondency. "Favorite Prescription" is not a stimulant, containing no alcohol or whisky.

"In October 1889 I gave birth to a baby and the treatment I received at the hands of the midwife left me with female weakness," writes Mrs. Cordelia Henson, of Coalton, Boyd Co., Ky. "I had no health to speak of for three years. I had another baby which was the third child. My health began to fail and I had three miscarriages so I found myself completely worn out. I had so many pains and aches my life was a burden to me and also to all the family, for I was nervous and cross and I could not sleep. Just after my last miscarriage (in 1886) I was taken with a severe pain in left side. Had four doctors come to see me but at last I found I was slowly dying. The doctors said I had liver, lung and uterine trouble. I was in bed for months and when I did get up I looked like a corpse walking about. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, 'Favorite Prescription,' and 'Pellets,' and ever since then I have been a well woman. At my monthly period now, I have no pain. My cheeks are red and my face is white, but before it was as yellow as saffron."

Is It Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this remedy in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

General Wheeler

Taking in the situation around Manila. Now let Uncle Sam relieve Otis and give the old Buttermilk Ranger a half chance and you'll very soon hear the insurgents calling for the calf rope. The name Buttermilk Ranger was given to our cavalry during the 60s. An army to be victorious must have confidence in their leader. Take the record of General Jackson. Why, the soldiers under him knew no such thing as defeat, and to just say that Jackson's in the rear was enough to throw consternation in the camp of the enemy. Confidence is just as important in the commercial world, and the mere mention of the name creates a panic in the mercantile arena. We cannot understand how we can always get in the rear of their prices, but this is easily explained. For we have a leader that knows every hog path that leads to the manufacturing plants of this country and keeps posted. In this way you see we only buy from first hands, thereby saving the middleman's profit. Our buyer spends weeks in the market. Take the army of stores—Charlotte, Greensboro, Monroe, and Union, S. C., and you will at once see that it requires tons upon tons of goods to supply them. Buying so largely we take the entire output of a number of factories. In this way we get the inside prices. Our buyer will soon

HARRY-BELK BROS. CO.
